

I think she means that she needed her hands before she had this new profession because she played the Violine.