

If Emma chose graphic design, she would be happier
If Emma took a different elective, she would get better results
If Emma worked harder at school she would get better results
If Emma's mother had more money, she would send Emma to art school
If Emma's brother didn't help her, she would fail in math
If I was Emma, I would choose graphic design as an elective