
Solution to the Problem

The remains can still be used to make a soup for example. A other solution is to buy not so much food at one time because many pepole don't eat all the food that they buy ore the Supermarkets stop to throw the actually good food in the trash.

What is the problem ?

The most pepole want the live to easy how much is possible. They don't won't the food from the yesterday ore want to use the restovers. And that why they throw the actually good food in the trash. In Germany every pepole throw every Year 179 kg in the trash.
