Generation gap

Read the article about 'Generation Z' and answer these questions in English:

↳ Who is Generation Z and what are their characteristics?

↳ Do you agree with the author of this article? Discuss (written).

↳ Briefly explained, today's teenagers or even young adults are the generation Z.

In general, generation Z is different from generation Y, because generation Z is more important to family values than careers. Only when the new generation recognizes a higher meaning in work does this change. It's also not for the new generation that private and work are mixed. You want free time from a certain time. In addition, a good working atmosphere is more important to you than a high salary. But she is also more relaxed on the road, they prefer not to have management posts. And since everything is also becoming much more modern, the generation appeals to few. They want to be involved in projects.

↳ I think this article is only halfway true. It's true that Generation Z prefer to have regular times in order to be able to separate private and working life.

But what I don't think is true is that the new generation doesn't want any leadership positions. Many even want one but consider themselves not good enough. Others, and that's true, are just too lazy. But that's not the only thing I would say that the desire to have children has decreased further.
Because you see fewer pregnant women every year and the abortions are increasing.<sup>100</sup> After that I have rejected things there is another one where I agree. Young people want to be addressed in the advertising methods. You have to make everything new-fashioned to address them.<sup>134</sup>
