1 Steve Wozniak wanted a phone number where the numbers were all the same.

2 His new number was 888-8888.

3 But he had a problem: he got more than 100 phone calls every day.

4 In the end, Steve understood: the phone calls were from babies!

5 There was only one thing to do: he changed his number.

b) What do you think would have happened if Steve had had the number 777-7777?

I think he would still have got phone calls from babies.
