

Volunteer work with elephants in Thailand

The Program

- The program is about helping elephants that come from the tourism industry reintegrate into the forest.
- You will be able to work alongside traditional elephant keepers and discover the culture of the Karen community and the forests of Northern Thailand

The Location

- The main Base is located in the mountains near Chiang Mai.
- The work will take place in the Mae Chaem District 5 hours into the mountains.

The Work

- You will do a lot of research on the behavior of elephants when reintegrated into the forest.
- But you will also do social work like teaching at schools and just get involved in the village.
